Ohio Jobless Pay Extended, But No Emergency Declared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The only hope for extended jobless benefits for Ohioans who have been out of work for many months appeared to lie today with Congress.

Ohio House Democrats, under the spur of the Ohio AFL-CIO, have killed any chance for an emergency extension of Ohio benefits by the legislature.

Every House Democrat with the exception of one absentee voted against the emergency clause in the hotly controversial, highly partisan extender bill Wednesday. They claimed other Republican-sponsored provisions of the bill would hinder rather than help the jobless to receive benefits.

House Republicans, to a man, voted for the extender.

It was anti-climactic that the House went ahead, then, and passed the extender bill without its emergency clause.

Even should the Senate do a hurry-up job on the bill and Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle sign it, it still would be June 1 before the extender could be effective.

Senate minority leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas, says there is no more enthusiasm for the present bill among Senate Democrats than there was in the House. That closes the door to any possibility that the emergency clause might be re-inserted in the Senate and sent back to the House for approval.

That puts the whole problem up to Congress which is moving along with its own plan for a jobless benefits extender. Final Congressional action is expected about the second week of April.

Even so, depending of course on the final form of the federal action, it appears likely that the legislature will be required at that time to approve payments of extended benefits to Ohioans who have exhausted their normal benefits and still are unemployed.

The question which then would be presented to the legislature would be shorn of all the provisions, which labor terms restrictive, which the Republicans had on the Ohio House floor Wednesday.

There still is the possibility, of course, that Senate Republicans might try to put a further squeeze on the Democrats through an attempt to put the emergency clause back in the bill when it comes to a floor vote in the Senate.

Southern Bloc Opposed to Education Plan

Byrd Sparks Drive Against Bill; Fear Of Integration Noted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., sparked fresh Southern opposition to President Kennedy's aid to education program with the assertion today that it will open a back door to school integration.

Byrd said he is convinced after an analysis of Kennedy's proposals for federal educational grants to states to spend as they see fit that the program will "pave the way for the most colossal sort of expenditures."

But even more distasteful to him, he said in an interview, is what he regards as the probability that Congress eventually may require school desegregation in all states accepting federal funds.

"No one can guarantee that there will not be federal efforts to control our schools to this extent," Byrd said.

"Any bill Congress passes now may not carry a desegregation provision. But there is real danger that on some future bill appropriating the money to make the payments to the states a rider may be attached saying that no funds shall go to any state which does not desegregate its schools."

Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff told a news conference Monday he believed it would be a great tragedy to use federal aid to education as a lever to end school segregation.

Ribicoff endorsed the 1954 Supreme Court ruling against segregation in public schools. But he said he would oppose any amendment that would deny federal aid to schools because they are segregated.

Byrd's outspoken opposition to the education program was regarded as significant because some Kennedy administration officials believed the Virginian might go along because of the state control features of the Kennedy bill.

Their efforts to woo Byrd over to their side have been matched by attempts to chip other Southern Democrats away from a bipartisan conservative coalition opposing the Kennedy proposals.

Even strong administration supporters like Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., are wary of any intrusion of the school segregation issue.

Smathers, secretary of the Senate Democratic Conference, said he supports the "general principles" of the Kennedy program. But he added that he will stand against any effort to enforce integration through it.

School Drama Shooting Tied To Stolen Gun

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A pistol used in the accidental wounding of a 14-year-old boy at St. Vincent High School during a freshman class rehearsal for a show was stolen from a Barberton hardware store, police reported today.

Ricky Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Mueller of Cuyahoga Falls, who was shot in the abdomen Wednesday, remained in serious condition today at St. Thomas Hospital. Attendants said the 22-caliber bullet narrowly missed his heart.

Police said one of the freshman boys had brought the pistol from home and another boy, 13, was clowning with the weapon when young Mueller was shot.

Barberton police said the pistol was one of a pair of matched 22-caliber single-shot derringers stolen last December from the Barberton Hardware Co. They said a 17-year-old youth had been picked up in connection with the theft as a result of Wednesday's shooting and will be turned over to juvenile authorities.

The 14-year-old boy who took the pistol to school told police the weapon was given to him by the 17-year-old youth, who is being held in the detention home. The boy who did the shooting and the one who took the pistol to school were released to their parents following questioning at the detention home.

THE HIGH AND LOW OF IT — Chuck Spangler (33) of Logan Elm leaps high to send the ball basket bound. Taking it all in from a near horizontal position is Ashville's Danny Hollenback. Rushing to the scene is Logan Elm's Bob Hart (51). Ashville's Paul Frase (40) and Dick Noggle (12) looks as surprised as Hollenback, although the Broncos went on to record a 50-39 victory in the tournament semifinals here last night.

NLRB Books Labor Hearing Against GE

NEW YORK (AP)—A National Labor Relations Board examiner will hold a hearing here March 13 on charges of unfair labor practices by the General Electric Co. before and during a nationwide strike last October.

The charges originated from the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

IUE president James B. Carey said in Miami that the filing of the complaint by the NLRB regional director was "a further indictment of General Electric management policy."

Carey, who is attending the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting in Miami, said:

"The attitudes that resulted in the NLRB action are the same attitudes that permitted high executives of the company to participate in a price-fixing conspiracy against the American public."

The allusion was to the recent federal court penalties imposed on executives of GE and other companies in an antitrust case. Carey said the NLRB case will test the legality of GE's "policy of bargaining - by - ultimatum, of making a first-and-final offer, in refusing throughout the bargaining period to modify or improve its initial proposal."

Youth Picket Line Asks Disarmament

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A group of persons, identifying themselves as Youth for Nuclear Disarmament, Wednesday picketed the Franklin Institute where the director of the Navy's fleet ballistic missile program spoke.

The pickets, who said they are calling for a halt to the U.S. and Soviet arms build-up, marched in the rain past a full-sized model of the Polaris outside the institute. Several of the pickets, most of whom were college students, carried placards. The picketing was peaceful.

Speaking before a joint meeting of the Franklin Institute and Engineering Societies, Vice Adm. William F. Raborn said the Polaris is the most powerful weapon ever conceived and a major deterrent to war.

Victims Identified

Tribe Chiefs OK British Plan

Political Freedom In Rhodesia Liked

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—African tribal chiefs today backed a British plan to give the Negroes of Northern Rhodesia more political freedom as the white minority threatened to demand independence to preserve white supremacy in the royal protectorate.

Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Central African Federation that links Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland was reported ready to call a general election asking for a mandate to break all ties with the crown.

Troops were held in readiness but fears of any immediate outbreak of racial strife in Northern Rhodesia subsided after 25 tribal chiefs approved the proposed British reforms and appealed to the Africans to remain calm. But the chiefs—representing all the tribes in the territory—expressed grave concern at the troop mobilization ordered by Welensky after he rejected the proposed new constitution for Northern Rhodesia.

While still holding to the view that Africans should dominate the administrative council that governs Northern Rhodesia, the chiefs agreed to go along with the British plan as an interim measure offering some political advance for Africans.

Welensky, however, was adamant in his opposition to anything promising black rule in any part of the federation and also insisted the territory's white minority would not permit any breakup of the federation, as the African nationalists of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland have been demanding.

No Refueling Seen For Future A-Sub

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Nuclear submarines which will never need refueling may be built soon, says Capt. William R. Anderson, former skipper of the nuclear submarine Nautilus.

Anderson, who took the Nautilus on its historic trip under the North Pole, gave an interview Wednesday.

"The Nautilus could go 60,000 miles on its first load of fuel," he said. "Before long it will be possible to build a reactor that will not need refueling for the entire life of the ship—maybe 25 years."

Ross County tournament play at the Circleville gym tonight pits Bucksin vs Catholic Central and Paint Valley vs Southeastern in semifinals play.

Punished Boy, 12 Is Found Hanged

CLEVELAND (AP) — Twelve-year-old Alfred B. Dressman Jr. seemed in good spirits even though he had been sent to the basement for talking back to his mother.

When the boy's father returned home from work Wednesday, the boy rushed upstairs to greet him, then returned to the basement, telling his father he would see him later.

Some time later, when the youngster failed to respond to calls to dinner, Mrs. Dressman went to the basement and found Alfred dead, hanging from an overhead pipe. A scarf was knotted around his neck and fastened to the pipe by heavy twine.

The coroner will rule.

Fourth Youngster Born On National Holiday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Celebrating the birth of a child has become a holiday tradition for a Brecksville couple.

Four of the last six children of Mr. and Mrs. Venedict Syz have been born on holidays. Two were near-misses.

Mrs. Mary Syz, 39, did it again Wednesday — Washington's Birthday. She gave birth to an 8-pound, 2-ounce daughter in Lutheran Hospital.

Kennedy Hits At Laxity of Ike's Program

New Flood Controls, Competitive A-Power Sought by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today sent Congress a program for vast development of America's natural resources and he asserted Eisenhower administration policy took a heavy toll of lives "by postponing essential flood control projects."

In a special message, the President set forth plans for both immediate and long range dealing with a host of problems in the field of resources. He said: "If we fail to use these blessings prudently, we will be in trouble in a short time."

He called for facing up to the problems now, and added: "The task is large but it will be done." Kennedy placed no price tag on his far-reaching program which, among other things, envisages development of economically competitive nuclear power within 10 years to replace or supplement power from conventional fuels in areas where such fuel is expensive.

Administration officials said they won't be able to estimate the added cost of the over-all Kennedy program over present levels of resources spending until studies by the Budget Bureau and other federal agencies have been completed. These officials indicated they look for very little swift impact on the budget with several of Kennedy proposals geared to needs years from now.

Specific recommendations by the President include doubling spending on research aimed at making salty ocean water suitable for use in the home and by industry. The administration said this would hike the outlay to $10 million a year.

"I pledge," said Kennedy, "that when this know-how is achieved it will immediately be made available to every nation in the world who (sic) wishes it, along with appropriate technical and other assistance for its use. Indeed the United States welcomes now the cooperation of all other nations who wish to join in this effort at present."

The Kennedy program dealt with water resources generally and the prospect for doubled consumption—to 600 billion gallons daily by 1980; big scale expansion of electric power; forest conservation; exploration of the oceans for oil, gas and minerals (Continued on Page 2)

Smith Declines Envoy Post; Swiss Happy

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Swiss government officials learned with unconcealed satisfaction today that Earl E.T. Smith had asked President Kennedy not to appoint him U.S. ambassador to Switzerland.

There was no official comment. But reliable informants said the Swiss government would have accepted Smith's nomination if the United States had insisted on it. A government official said the Swiss were anxious to avoid any affront to the Kennedy administration.

A republican, Smith was ambassador to Cuba in the Eisenhower administration until just after Fidel Castro took over. He was quickly replaced there by a career diplomat.

Castro said Smith was too friendly with Fulgencio Batista, the dictator Castro overthrew.

Since the United States broke diplomatic relations with Cuba recently, the Swiss have been handling U. S. requests. Much of the Swiss criticism apparently centered on this factor—that the new appointment of Smith might cause embarrassment and difficulty in carrying out these duties for the United States.

The Swiss government did not openly oppose Smith, but its cabinet delayed approval of him and made it clear it would rather have someone else. Ambassadorial nominations are never submitted to the Senate until the host government has indicated the nominee is welcome.

House Committee Gives OK To Kennedy Idle Pay Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today approved legislation for President Kennedy's billion-dollar program of temporary unemployment aids.

Democratic leaders said they expect passage in time to meet the administration's goal — payments to the long-time unemployed by April 1.

The committee version includes the financing plan favored by Republicans and most business spokesmen who appeared before the committee. The estimated $990-million cost would be repaid during 1962 and 1963 by a temporary 4 of one per cent increase in the payroll tax employers now pay.

The bill provides for continuing unemployment insurance payments to jobless persons who have exhausted their basic rights under the federal-state unemployment insurance program.

The payments would continue up to one-half the time the various states originally provided. Since the longest state program is for 26 weeks, the maximum extension would be 13 weeks. Payment would be at the weekly rate provided by the various states.

States which, on their own, have put in emergency extensions, would receive refunds.

Officials estimated the plan would take two weeks to go into effect after approval by Congress.

This would mean Congress would have to send it to the White House by the middle of March to meet the effective date set by the President and his advisers, who gave unemployment benefit extension the No. 1 place in a list of 16 priority measures.

4 Men Killed In Greenville Airplane Crash

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Four men were killed early today when a private plane crashed into a farm field during a wind and rainstorm. Two were Ohio businessmen.

The dead in the crash, 500 feet off Ohio 185 between Brock and Frenchtown on the William Baltes farm in Darke County, were listed as:

Allen Ray Irons, 36, of Mount Gilead, regional sales manager of the Hercules - Galion Products Co., in Galion.

Rex McPeck, 30, of Mount Gilead, an employee of the Hydraulic Manufacturing Co. of Mount Gilead.

Raymond B. Hoelscher, 30, of St. Louis.

Thomas E. Mayberry, 23, of Wood River, Ill.

Authorities said Irons was in St. Louis, Mo., last Monday when his 6-year-old son, Lon, was hurt critically when he ran into the side of a car. Unable to get home by commercial plane because of the airline strike Irons hired a plane owned by Hoelscher, and flew home with the owner and Mayberry.

The crash today came as Irons was returning the plane and the two men, together with McPeck, to St. Louis. Irons was reported to have been the only licensed pilot available for the flight.

The party left the airport in Marion at 12:30 a.m. and the crash is believed to have taken place about 2 a.m. on the Baltes farm as the plane flew east in the bad weather. One unidentified motorist passing the spot at the time reported he heard a crash but thought it was the storm.

Bales found the wreckage in the field this morning. The plane had struck the ground on its nose, and wreckage was scattered in a 100-foot area. One body had been thrown clear and three bodies remained in the wreckage.

Irons, a native of Mount Gilead, has a wife and three children, and the wife is expecting another child.

Cambodia Shuns Laos Peace Panel Invite

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodia today rejected Lao King Savang Vathanas's proposal for a Cambodian-Burmese-Malayan commission to help end the civil war in Laos.

The Cambodian statement — which appeared to doom the king's proposal — said Prince Norodom Sihanouk's government did not think it suggested commission could control foreign intervention without cooperation from the pro-Communist forces controlling eastern Laos.

Carolyn Byrd, 16, a passenger, received a minor bump near the mouth.

PATROLMEN William Brungs and William Goff said the cars collided in the intersection. They said the Byrd auto was headed south on Washington St. and the Burley vehicle west on Main St. According to the officers, both autos suffered extensive damage.

Ohio Teacher Supply To Drop in '61

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "supply and demand" teacher study shows that Ohio's universities and colleges will turn out 337 fewer teachers in 1961 than the 8,440 in 1960.

The study was prepared by Albert C. May, director of teacher education and certification in the Ohio Department of Education.

It also showed that: One of every 12 pupils in Ohio's public schools is being taught by a teacher temporarily certified by the department.

Of 78,209 teachers certified for full time, 6,723 have temporary full-time certificates. They do not meet all department requirements.

They represent 8.6 per cent of the total, of one in 12, May said. Another 5,200 are certified as temporary substitute teachers.

May said the tendency for a drop in preparation of teachers is alarming and attributed it to a "poor job" of recruiting.

Labor Union Also Hit by High Costs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The business recession is hitting hard at organized labor's own management operations. A drop of about one million dues-paying members has forced the AFL-CIO to retrench.

Federation leaders said privately today that, like many business men, they are going to have to adopt economies and get more revenue to keep their big labor organizations out of the red.

Lagging employment has reduced AFL-CIO dues paying membership from about 13.5 million to about 12.5 million, it was said. Members out of work don't pay regular dues.

Also, while dues revenue has been declining, union expenses have been increasing.

The retrenchment program is expected to result in some layoffs on the AFL-CIO headquarters staff in Washington as well as a tighter rein on donations to various causes which have been running to over $1 million each year.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council also was expected to levy a temporary special assessment of two cents per member on affiliated unions in order to counter a general fund deficit that has climbed to about $700,000 in the past eight months.

The temporary additional dues payment, amounting to about $2 million would continue until the AFL-CIO holds its next convention here in December when a permanent dues increase is expected to be proposed.

Stock Mart Is Turbulent, Changes Few

NEW YORK (AP)—A turbulent stock market went nowhere on average early this afternoon although selected issues were strong.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 236.50 with industrials off .40, rails up .10 and utilities up .30.

Trading was very heavy. In the first hour 1.12 million shares were traded.

Electronics and a number of specially situated issues made gains. Oils, rails, mail order-retails and utilities were generally higher. Rubbers were off. Steels, motors, chemicals, building materials and aircraft-missiles were mixed.

The market had a strong speculative flavor among the actively traded issues but the list as a whole was still apparently meeting resistance just below the June top in the Dow Jones industrial average.

Zenith spurred more than 4 points, Beckman Instruments advanced 2, Litton Industries, Ford and Brunswick more than a point. General Electric was off about a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .42 at 651.98.

Corporate bonds advanced, U.S. governments were mixed in moderate trading.

Louisiana State University scientists have developed a way of using bacteria to locate oil deposits. The bacteria thrive in areas where gases containing hydrocarbons rise from the underground oil.

Kennedy Hits

and for seafood; great expansion of recreational areas; and control of air and water pollution. Kennedy said that in marketing federal electric power, preference will be given to public agencies and cooperatives.

In outlining plans for water resources development, the President said "we reject a 'no new starts' policy." Kennedy did not name the Eisenhower administration but aides said this was a slap at his predecessor's regime. Kennedy and other Democrats contended during the campaign last year that the government under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower stifled development of water resources by advocating an economy policy, which, the critics said, blocked the start of new projects.

"Such a policy," Kennedy said today, "denied the resource requirements and potential upon which our economic growth hinges; and took a heavy toll in added costs and even human life and homes by postponing essential flood control projects."

As for the future in this field, the President said: "I have requested the director of the Bureau of the Budget, working with appropriate department and agency heads, to schedule a progressive, orderly program of starting new projects to meet accumulated demands, taking into account the availability of funds."

In this case and generally throughout his message Kennedy mentioned no specific projects. Legislation detailing these is expected to go to Congress later.

"From the beginning of civilization, every nation's basic wealth and progress has stemmed in large measure from its natural resources," Kennedy told Congress. "This nation has been, and is now, especially fortunate in the blessings we have inherited. Our entire society rests upon—and is dependent upon—our water, our land, our forests and our minerals."

Kennedy continued: "But even under conservative projections, we face a future of critical shortages and handicaps. By the year 2000, a United States population of 300 million—nearly doubled in 40 years—will need far greater supplies of farm products, timber, water, minerals, fuels, energy, and opportunities for outdoor recreation."

He said "Wise investment in a resource program today will return vast dividends tomorrow, and failures to act now may be opportunities lost forever."

Kennedy said his goal was to bring together in a single message "the widely scattered resource policies of the federal government." He added that in the past these policies have overlapped and often conflicted, "and funds were wasted on competing efforts."

The President said he was striving for coordination of policy by:

Directing his Council of Economic Advisers to enlarge its staff and report on the status of resources programs in relation to national needs.

Establishing, under the council, a presidential advisory committee on natural resources.

Instruction the budget director to formulate within 90 days general principles for application of fees, permits and other user charges at all types of natural resource projects, and to re-evaluate standards for appraising feasibility of water resource projects.

Reprisal by Western Airline Held Key to Strike Accord

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western Airlines is the big stumbling block in the way of settlement of the nation's greatest air traffic snarl, a spokesman for striking flight engineers said today.

The point at issue with Western, a Pacific Coast operator, is a pledge not to join in reprisals against the strikers. The airline had announced dismissal of 130 striking engineers and plans to replace them with pilots.

Stating flatly that "there will be no deal without Western," the Flight Engineers International Association spokesman said headquarters here has more than 1,000 telegrams to that effect from its members.

The union spokesman said attorneys for the strikers and the operators met until after 3 o'clock this morning and worked out many of the other problems. He indicated confidence that the remainder could be solved without much difficulty if Western would go along.

That estimate of the situation was considerably more optimistic than the one given by union sources shortly after the early-morning break-up of the negotiations.

At that time the word had been that "a little progress was made" but "we are a long way from agreement."

The Western situation and technical language on a non-reprisals pact were mentioned in that connection.

The issue immediately involved is that of a return to work and not final settlement of the dispute that caused the walkout.

The walkout started last Friday and reached monumental proportions this week. The engineers are protesting a ruling by the National Labor Relations Board that engineers and pilots at United Air Lines must be represented by one union.

The pressure was taking these forms:

Five major airlines, joined at times by a sixth, told the strikers Wednesday night that if they "have not reported their availability for service" by noon today the carriers would withdraw their non-reprisals assurances.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said after a meeting with the officials of the six lines Wednesday that "there is no reason or justification to continue the walkout."

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, joined Kennedy in urging the strikers to return.

The optimistic note was sounded by panel chairman Nathan Feinsinger. After his group assembled Wednesday, he said it was proceeding "on the assumption that there will be a resumption of passenger service tomorrow."

He qualified his perception of a rainbow by saying "a feeling of optimism" is a prerequisite to the type of work the panel was engaged in.

The airlines issued their threat after a conference arranged by the government in an effort to end the strike. Goldberg said the struck Western Airlines had refused to make the same assurances of no reprisals if the men got back to work at once.

U.N. Letter Urges Belgium To Remove Aides from Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A letter from the United Nations to Belgium today sought her help in getting Belgian military personnel and political advisers out of the Congo.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld addressed the letter to Belgium's ambassador at the U.N., Walter Lorian, and incorporated in its suggestions from his advisory committee on the Congo.

The letter asked Belgium's aid in carrying out the Security Council's latest Congo resolution, urging immediate withdrawal from the Congo of "Belgian and other foreign" military men and political advisers not serving with the U.N. force and calling on all countries to prevent such personnel from going to the Congo.

It also empowered the United Nations to use force if needed to head off civil war in the Congo, called for an investigation of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba's slaying and urged that the Congo Parliament be convened and Congolese troops reorganized and removed from politics.

Both Premier Joseph Ileo of the new central government in Leopoldville and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province defied the council resolution. But Tshombe eased his defiance somewhat Wednesday with an announcement that he and the U.N. command in Katanga had agreed to halt all troop movements "likely to lead to friction" between their respective forces.

Hammarskjöld's office had no confirmation of reports that Antoine Gizenga's Communist-backed regime in Stanleyville had executed 15 followers of President Joseph Kasavubu in retaliation for Lumumba's slaying.

As Hammarskjöld sought more troops to bolster his understrength force in the Congo, Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Parliament the new council resolution had "removed one barrier" to sending Indian troops to the Congo. But he said he would like to see further developments in the U.N. Congo policy before committing India to supply troops.

In the four year period before the Salk vaccine was introduced, there were approximately 39,000 cases of infantile paralysis each year. Since 1955, when the Salk vaccine appeared, the number has continued to drop with about 3,200 cases reported during 1960.

Don't Coddle Young Hoodlums

A University of Massachusetts sociologist who has studied the behavior of gangs of hoodlums has found them little different from mobs of adults which may form through a fanatic leader and a common frustration, sense of outrage or just plain anticipation of a great adventure.

Juveniles are merely more susceptible to mob action because of their ripe and uncontrolled emotions.

Dr. Lewis Yablonsky, associate professor of sociology at the university, investigated the individuals and motives of two youth gangs which met for a "rumble" in the vicinity of Columbia University and found that a few psychotic leaders and the elements of mob hysteria — excitement, comradeship, bravado and the anticipation of an unknown outcome — were all present.

He also discovered that the gangs were really not gangs at all, but loosely organized groups of young people who hardly knew one another. In several instances, juveniles caught participating in the melee joined the riot from the ranks of bystanders just for "kicks". Others heard of the impending clash from talk in the neighborhood and recruited their own little bands to join in the fun.

Dr. Yablonsky calls these gangs "near-groups" because of their lack of fraternal contact and derides social manuals which advise, for example, that "participation in a street gang or club, like participation in any natural group, is a part of the growing-up process of adolescence — such primary group associations possess potentialities for positive growth and development."

Brand these youthful warlords for what they are, advises the professor, by arresting their leaders and committing them for psychiatric observation. Not only will those leaders in need of psychiatric help be aided, but the followers will soon tire of joining in an escapade branded by society as "nutty" or "sick". Strip them of their glamor and would-be young hangers-on will be laughed at, not joined by their youthful better.

Tales of a Fly Spray Salesman

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — What do you figure would be the toughest kind of job in the world?

How about trying to sell fly spray to farmers at the height of the great depression, when hardly anybody could buy anything?

An old hoecake country boy named Fred Grove, who now writes books of Western yarns from his Rancho Grande at Norman, Okla., tried the spray line and would rather plow an 880-acre farm with a broken-down mule.

Fred recalls it all too well — as if it were only yesterday, and here is how he tells it:

"You drive up to the farmhouse slowly, careful to close all gates and not run over any fryers or hound dogs."

"Your prospect, a stout, middle-aged man with skeptical blue eyes, would likely be out in the cow lot. Busy, of course, but summer heat made it easy to stop and talk a while in the shade."

"The fly spray salesman who ate regularly never hurried or put on uppity airs. He was a folksy type, true blue for the Constitution, a strong weather-talker and never used hyphenated cusswords. He'd mumble 'Don't mind if I do' when offered a chaw of tobacco."

"He'd then proceed to anoint sunflowers with astonishing accuracy, and perhaps allow as how the rich 'uns is livin' off the farmers."

"By and by, the farmer would ask: 'What kind o' dope you got in that blue can, young sprout?'"

"It's a plumb new insecticide, sir. Called Whizbang. Made down in Tulsa. Kills a fly in open air. Right here!"

"Most o'rs are in the barn."

"It's also mighty handy for cleaning wash tubs and woodwork."

"Ma does that."

"Its uses are just about unlimited, sir. Kills lice on hogs."

"Young feller, my hogs don't have no lice."

"Oh, I meant just in case the lice did get ahold of them. I can see you sure keep a mighty clean place here. Course, this here Whizbang's plenty handy for burnin' off hea roosts and gettin' rid of wasp nests."

"Always keep my hen house clean. Don't give a dang about the wasps."

"Now sir, I want to show you something. I'd like to spray one of your best milkers. Modesty compels me to omit the name of my competitors, because they ain't worth a hoot anyway. Watch those flies fall as I squirt this fine lookin' Jersey. Now see me squirt it on my shirt. If it won't stain my shirt it ain't gonna hurt a hair on your cow. May I take your order for five gallons sir?"

"W-a-l-l, now I don't just know 'bout that. Tell you what. It's nigh on noontime now. I think ma's probably got the table set so you come on up with me and let's try out the vittles."

Fred says nobody ever sold enough fly spray that way to get rich, but a fellow got some pretty fair groceries — sometimes.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—If the demand for new homes has slackened, the yen for fixing up and enlarging present houses hasn't.

Some eager to cater to this trend optimistically estimate Americans will spend a record $21 billion this year on improvements and repairs.

This would help the economy in general at a time when such aid is welcome.

It also would please makers of all kinds of building materials, home furnishings and appliances, as well as architects, decorators and builders. Sharing the boon would be dealers in lumber, plumbing fixtures, paint, and a the operator of home modernization centers.

The trend also would please various purveyors of credit to the masses—for improvement financing can run all the way from government-approved mortgage loans to advances by your friendly banker or finance company officer.

One of the services the home modernization center offers in a single package is that equally modern device, on-the-cuff financing.

The size of this market compares favorably with new housing put in place. Total spending on nonfarm residential construction in 1959 was put at $22.3 billion by the Bureau of the Census. Farm dwellings added another $819 million.

Those close to the modernization market think its growth has been one reason for the slowdown in building of new houses. The National Retail Lumbermen's Association has been plunging the market, especially since new home building slackened. Many of its members are getting into the home modernization center business. These are often located on a busy highway with huge signs to lure the passing motorist.

If he stops he's likely to find inside sample kitchen and bath-

Encouraging Steel Signs Still Scarce

NEW YORK (AP)—Encouraging signs still are hard to find despite the recent modest pickup in steel output, the Iron Age said today.

The weekly metalworking magazine said: "There are no indications this week of any aboutface on the part of the big users. These are: Automotive, oil and gas, railroads, ware houses and independent stampers."

"April and May now are mentioned in the industry as possible recovery months. But this is only because there is no change in sight for March."

The comment came at a time when production had just climbed 3.8 per cent to 1,582,000 tons of raw steel last week—the highest tonnage in eight months but only about 55 per cent of capacity.

The trade journal said steel prices were being tested continually and reports circulated that prime steel was being sold by mills as "seconds," with extras conveniently dropped.

Union, Company Rapped by NLRB

CLEVELAND (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has ruled a contract between the Industrial Rayon Corp., Painesville and the Operating Engineers Union contained a flaw and ordered a former employee reinstated.

In the ruling Tuesday the board said Gregory J. Cudzilo of Madison can receive back pay to Oct. 23, 1959. The board ruled the company and the union were guilty of an unfair labor practice in discharging Cudzilo, pursuant to a contract security agreement, for failure to pay dues and for concealing his dues checkoff.

Dear Abby

By Abigail VanBuren

Buy Him a Brass Spittoon!

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who chews? I only see him on Sundays and I can never talk to him because his mouth is so full. When we go for a drive and I ask him a question, he has to stop the car. Let me hear from other wives who have tobacco chewing husbands. I am at the end of my rope.

CHEWER'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: A tobacco chewer will give up his wife before he will give up his cud. If he chewed when you married him and you planned to reform him—surrender. If this is something new, bribe, punish him or kill him with kindness, but let him know how much you detest this habit—and pray he gives it up.

Community Circle Schedules Session

WEDNESDAY

DEAR ABBY: I have a daughter by a former marriage. The man I married also had a daughter by a former marriage. (His wife died.) When introducing the girls, is it proper for me to say, "Meet my daughter and my stepdaughter?" I think it sounds terrible, but how will people know which one is mine and which one is his?

MOTHER IN DOUBT
DEAR MOTHER: It is not proper to identify one of the girls as "your own" and the other as a "step-daughter." On introducing them, say, "These are 'OUR' daughters." If anyone has the bad manners to pry into their parentage, you can explain.

DEAR ABBY: I am having a terrible time trying to convince my mother that her old-fashioned ideas about dating are not right for this day and age. She says if a boy asks you to a school dance and you tell him you are going out of town or something, you can't show up with another fellow. This means a girl has to accept the first boy who asks her, whether he's a drip or not, or else stay home. Abby, please tell my mom in your column that times have changed.

A MODERN GIRL
DEAR MODERN: "Times" may have changed, but the feelings of people remain the same. If you don't care to go with a boy, thank him and say you are "busy." His feelings will be spared and you will be free to go with someone else, should you be asked. If you say you'll be "out of town or something," you'll prove yourself to be a liar—and a pretty sneaky one at that.

DEAR ABBY: You are to be commended for the letters on mental illness you ran in your column. In those letters I saw so clearly the attitude of society, which makes it so difficult for the emotionally disturbed to recover. I had ten years of emotional trouble and was one of the lucky ones whose family stood by me. I wonder how many people know anything of the dark and horrible world a mentally ill person lives in. There are no words to describe the fear and terror. And then the hurt they receive when trying to recover and they become aware of the strange things they did during their illness.

Society has done a good job in making the mental patient ashamed. Too much cannot be said about the attitude of the public concerning mental illness. If ever a human needs understanding and patience, it is the one who is in the dark and lonely world of mental illness. I lived there—and I know.

"RECOVERED"
Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Future Ballot May Be Cast By Telephone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A dying germ, voting by telephone, a husband-toting shellfish and a bargain sale are subjects for science at work:

Dial P for President

You may be voting by telephone someday in the future, an expert predicts.

Come Election Day, you'd dial a special number, check a written ballot that had been mailed to you, dial code numbers for your vote, and dial a final code to cast the ballot.

Final results could be known a few minutes after polls close and you'd vote in your own home, says Dr. Ralph M. Goldman of Michigan State University. One problem: How to prevent someone from casting your ballot.

Death of a Germ

How Germs die when attacked by the disinfectant hexachlorophene in soaps and toothpastes has been discovered by University of Michigan scientists.

The germ bleeds to death, losing its vital fluids as the chemical attacks the thin membrane beneath the cell wall. Then the disinfectant moves in to break up the germ's life chemicals.

One of a group of disinfectants first used by Sir Joseph Lister in 1867 for antiseptic surgery, it had never been known how the chemical kills germs.

Attention Wives

A tiny female barnacle has reduced married life to its simplest. She carries one or two husbands around in her pocket.

This particular barnacle, of the family lithogypidae, doesn't live on ship bottoms, but burrows into coral. While the female is tiny—barely 8-100th of an inch long—the male is even less, a small, simple sac without ability for independent action, saved only for reproduction, and housed in a pocket in the female's right side, reports the Smithsonian Institution.

Prices Slashed

A bargain sale has been announced by the Atomic Energy Commission.

If you're looking for radioactive technetium-99, the Oak Ridge National Laboratory has slashed prices to $100 a gram, down from as high as $2,800 a gram. A nuclear reactor byproduct, the material has promise as an anticorrosion element.

Site for New Boys Institution Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state juvenile division is still on the hunt in Youngstown for a site for a small, experimental institution for wayward boys.

Eight prospective sites were inspected Tuesday but tentatively turned down. George W. Miles, assistant chief of the division, who accompanied Chief John R. Ferguson on the inspection, said representatives of the Youngstown community corporation's health and welfare council now have a better idea of what's wanted, and will continue looking.

The division proposed an establishment of about 20 boys, not hardened delinquents, living in normal community-type surroundings that would improve their chances for rehabilitation.

A similar development is planned in Cleveland.

The smallest bird known to man is the calypte helenae, a hummingbird. It grows only 2 1/4 inches long.

Canine Expert Finds Dogs Reflect Owner's Personality

NEW YORK (AP)—Dogs are introverts and extroverts just like people, says Bob Bartos, an expert on canine character. Some, in fact, grow into four-legged facsimiles of their owners.

"I have a feeling," Bartos says seriously, "that a dog that gets too human can be a little dishonest. He knows what he's supposed to do, and he knows that you know he knows. But he's come to like the soft life, and wants to do everything the easy way."

Basically, dogs are very much what you allow them to be, says Bartos, a professional handler, specialty judge and manager of a big research kennel in the Pacific Northwest.

"With 114 recognized breeds, of all sizes, shapes and dispositions, you can't make flat statements about dogs' temperaments any more than you can about human nationalities.

"It's true a highstrung, frenetic woman can make a nervous wreck out of a lot of animals, but a phlegmatic basset, for example, probably wouldn't be bothered."

Bringing up dogs is very much like raising children, he explains. The most important things are patience, consistency and good management. "And no one is worse for a dog, or a child, than a person who is undecided. You've

$47,500 Cache Tied To Indictment

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — The finding of $47,500 in the attic of a house figured today in a grand jury indictment against Harold B. Bennett, Cincinnati automobile agency executive.

Bennett, charged with grand larceny by his wife, Mrs. Betty Maye Bennett, is scheduled to be arraigned before Circuit Court Judge Raymond L. Murphy next Monday. His residence was given as Big Bone Road, Union, Ky.

Mrs. Bennett was quoted as saying she found the money in the attic of their former home and that her husband took it from her last October.

Bennett will plead innocent to the unusual charge of a wife suing her husband in such a case, attorney Daniel W. Davies said. He added that Bennett will ask for a trial by jury.

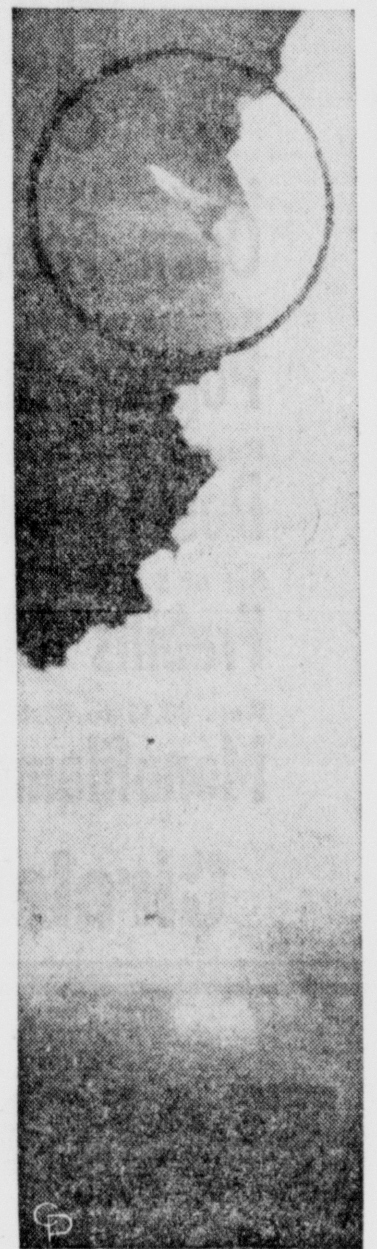

Commonwealth Attorney William J. Wise said, due to the "rather unusual circumstances" of a wife charging a husband with theft of such a large amount of money, he "privately investigated and evaluated the evidence presented to me."

Who put the $47,500 in the attic? That was anybody's guess. One was that it may have been a secret cache of a Campbell County slot machine syndicate operator.

Authorities are tracing former occupants of the home.

Afro-Asian Bloc Gains U.N. Power

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A former U. S. delegate to the United Nations predicted in a talk at Kent State University that the United States will "be on the losing end of many votes in the U.N." because of the rise of Afro-Asian nations.

Dr. George Betts, Associate professor of political science at Kent State, speaking Tuesday in the university's "Great Contemporary Issues" course, said the power in the United Nations has shifted from the west to the Afro-Asian bloc of nations.

He said the defeat last December of a U. S.-Great Britain resolution on the Congo—the first major defeat for the West in the U. S. General Assembly — foretells future defeats for the United States.

Ashtabula County Data Show Future Potential

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — A report showing that land is available for future development in Ashtabula County has been completed, Donald Lamb, assistant secretary of the county planning commission said Wednesday. The commission plans to use the report to attract new industry.

Examples of data contained in the report show 9,000 acres are used for roads and right of way; public properties, excluding churches, occupy 2,790 acres; there are 1,508 full-time farms in the county, averaging 96.9 acres; there are 1,197 part-time farms averaging 71 acres; 40 industry units occupy an average of 1,419 acres.

Senate Handed Ohio Idle Pay Extension Bill

The Senate received the bill Wednesday night, a few hours after the House floor vote, and sent it to the Commerce and Labor Committee. Conceivably, the non-emergency measure could be up for a floor vote in the Senate late next week.

House Democrats went through surprisingly few histrionics in their fight against the jobless pay bill.

They offered only one amendment. That was by Minority Leader James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield. He tried to strip the bill of all provisions except the one which would grant the benefits extender. All but one House Democrat, Rep. Ed Wallace of Pickaway County, voted with Lantz, but the leader's move failed on an otherwise party-line vote, 53 yes to 84 no.

The House drama played to packed galleries despite a delay of more than one hour while both parties caucused on the issue.

The crowd evaporated quickly after the Republicans failed to get a single Democratic vote in support of the emergency clause. The dramatic House action, which saw all house officials moving very carefully to avoid any possible technical error, far overshadowed the rest of the legislative day.

But there was at least one other important development—the proposal for a tax increase by a couple of Republican Senators whose 1960 platform pledged no new taxes.

The proposal came from Sens. Kline L. Roberts and Richard B. Metcalf, both of Columbus. They want the legislature to raise the license tag fee for both autos and trucks. The extra money—estimated at about $25 million in the next two years—would go directly to local governments on a formula basis for the construction and repair of local roads.

The bill is almost a duplicate of the one vetoed two years ago by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle after approval by a Democratic-dominated legislature.

The new annual license fee for passenger cars would be $12.50, up from the present $10.

Roberts explains it this way: Other Republican plans seek to give local subdivisions extra highway money by allocating all license tag money to them by changing the present law which makes the cost of running the Department of Highway Safety a cost chargeable to license fee money. The department would be allocated its operating money from other local subdivisions an extra $30 in the next two years.

Roberts says he expects to be censured for his move, but he says he made it in the firm conviction that the present state highway construction program should not be impeded by a shortage of funds. He pointed out that $30 million, matched 9 for 1 on interstate highway projects, means $300 million in highway construction for Ohio.

Governor Michael V. DiSalle's conflict-of-interest bill in the Ohio House has been sent to a subcommittee of two Democrats and Republican for reworking.

The plan is to make it more palatable to legislators, who would be subject to its provisions if it becomes law.

Rep. Michael Sweeney, D-Cuyahoga, was named chairman of the subcommittee of the Government Operations Committee. Other members are Rep. Charles Jackson, D-Clermont, and Rep. Joseph E. Lady, R-Hardin.

The subcommittee will consider, along with the governor's proposal, a substitute based on the New York law. The substitute was offered by Rep. James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield, the minority floor leader and one of three co-sponsors of the original.

Lantz conceded conflict-of-interest is a difficult area in which to draft legislation, but he said he

Japanese Movie Censors Get Tough on U.S. Films

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese movie censors, normally a mild lot, are adopting a new toughness toward violence in American and other foreign films.

Scenes of assault, especially with knives, will get close scrutiny and cuts will be made. The Japanese leaders are growing more and more alarmed with the rise of armed assaults by juveniles.

Many responsible persons here believe crime dramas of films and TV have contributed to this rise of violence. A close watch is kept on violence in TV—"The Untouchables" may never play here. Both incoming and Japan-made films are being closely watched.

Government censorship is for-bidden by the postwar Japanese constitution. But the Japanese generally respect authority, and self-censorship is usually effected when the authorities wish it.

Film censoring in Japan is patterned after Hollywood's production code. The movie interests contribute to a commission of motion picture code of ethics which passes on all scripts and finished films. More than 99 per cent of the nation's 8,000 theaters observe the code and won't play a film that doesn't bear a seal.

Violence bothers the Japanese censors but not sex. Films like "Butterfield 8," "Suddenly, Last Summer" and "From the Terrace" caused a stir in the United States for their raciness. They didn't raise a ripple here.

"But some of the Italian and French films give us trouble," said one of the commission members.

Brigitte Bardot's hops in and out of the shower have been cut. Nudity is frowned upon in films, though mixed bathing is common in Japan. Oddly, nude swimming is permitted to be shown in Swedish films. The reasoning seems to be that if that is the way the Swedes swim, so be it.

The Japanese have a way of censoring some of the franker American films without cuts. If a line of dialogue is too bold, the Japanese subtitle is translated as an innocuous phrase. To those who don't understand English, the scene seems entirely innocent.

Cincy Presbytery Asks Church Unity

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Presbytery of Cincinnati has agreed to ask the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church to move toward "more organic expression of unity" with other Christian churches.

The action Tuesday urged the assembly, due to meet at Buffalo May 17-25, to seek closer unity with churches of the Presbyterian and Reformed tradition, the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Methodist Church, the United Church of Christ and other denominations.

The overture to the assembly had been first presented at the Presbytery's January meeting and followed a formula suggested by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, noted Presbyterian churchman.

Vietnam Chef Shuns White House Position

LONDON (AP)—Bui Van Han gave it a lot of thought today and then said "No." He won't become President Kennedy's White House cook.

The 50-year-old Vietnamese chef decided to keep his job at the French Embassy here and cabled Kennedy: "Sorry, cannot make the trip to become your chef."

It was a tough decision for the little chef, whose culinary skill has been as much a part of French diplomacy here as striped pants. He took the day off from the kitchen chores to ponder the problem.

He didn't say why he declined the American job.

In six years at the embassy, his fame has spread wherever diplomats—and their wives—chatter about such important things as the palate of somebody they really want to win over.

A recent telephone call from Washington asked Bui if he would consider joining the White House staff.

He turned the kitchen over to the rest of the staff so he could contemplate.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is following the Lyndon Johnson plan for getting things done.

It's simple: Use the modest approach which asks for less than everything.

Vice President Johnson used it repeatedly when he was the Senate's Democratic majority leader from 1954 through 1960.

He avoided asking action on all he might have requested in order to avoid arousing extreme opposition which might have resulted in no action at all.

While this may have created an image of Johnson as a reasonable middle-roader, his critics complained he settled for too little.

But he did get action which otherwise might have been impossible.

One good example: He got through Congress this century's first civil rights bills over Southern Democratic opposition which, however, was mild. But so were the bills.

Kennedy, whether or not Johnson persuaded him to the same kind of course, has stopped short of going all-out in the programs he has asked Congress to approve.

For example: On his requests for a boost in the minimum wage and federal aid to education.

Already he is being criticized for not asking more. The AFL-CIO has complained his economic recovery plans are fine so far as they go but don't go far enough.

This is a sample of where Kennedy stopped short of all-out:

He asked that the minimum wage be raised from its present $1 an hour to $1.15 this year and to $1.25 in a couple of more years.

He could have asked for $1.25 an hour this year. And that raises a nice point about Kennedy's dealings with Congress.

Almost anything he asks is going to be compromised and watered down to some extent. So the question has been asked: Why

Federal Landholdings Reported Low in Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio was listed Wednesday by the General Services Administration (GSA) as one of six states in which federal land holdings total less than one per cent of the state's acreage.

Federal holdings in Ohio, the agency said, total 207,304 acres, or 0.8 per cent of 26.2 million.

In the 50 states, federal holdings total 722 million acres, of which about 720 million are in the public domain, primarily in national forests, parks, wildlife refuges and grazing areas.

Ice Cover Is Blamed For Killing of Fish

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Lack of oxygen in the Sandusky River due to heavy winter ice cover may be part of the answer to why a large number of fish have died in the river north of here, Charles Sheldon, district fish management supervisor, said Wednesday. He said he and his assistant, Jerry Manx, counted 31,500 dead catfish over a five-mile stretch.

Logan Elm Rally Fails; Rathburn Paces Victors

Ashville's bucking Broncos smashed their way into the finals of the Pickaway County Basketball Tournament last night with a 50-39 win over the bold Braves of Logan Elm.

A jam-packed coliseum audience was on hand at least 20 minutes before the game opened to start the evening of semifinals fireworks. The full house of fans got what they came for—an evening of fast and exciting basketball.

The Ashville-Logan Elm engagement opened the curtain, but plenty of action was still to come in the second battle which saw Walnut also land a berth in the finals with an 88-68 bombardment of Darby.

Ashville was quick and aggressive in handing Logan Elm its first loss by another county team. The Braves had won the league with seven straight wins.

THE Broncos, behind the stellar play of Tom Rathburn, pranced and danced their way to an early lead which was never relinquished. The able Braves threatened to corral the Broncos late in the final period, but the effort died in the fading minutes.

Making the nets sing, Ashville took a 13-7 lead at the end of the first quarter, then widened the gap to 29-16 at halftime. The Braves, playing without the services of starters Denny Valentine and Butch Willey, cut the lead to 41-31 as the third quarter ended and then started a real war dance which caused the Broncos no little trouble.

As the final chapter got under way, Logan Elm ace Chuck Spangler worked the cords over two jumpers and Danny Hicks leaped for another two-pointer to cut Ashville's lead to 43-37. About this time Rathburn took personal command for the Broncos.

The smooth junior cager and veteran preformer scored all nine of Ashville's points in the last frame to sidetrack the LE bid. Spangler tallied six of the Braves' eight markers in the final.

Rathburn used his jump shot to good advantage all evening to end the contest with 26 points. He hit six in the first period, five in the second, six in the third and the Ashville total production of nine in the fourth.

Spangler, a deadly outside shot all season, gave the Braves plenty of trouble with his 15 points and all around ability.

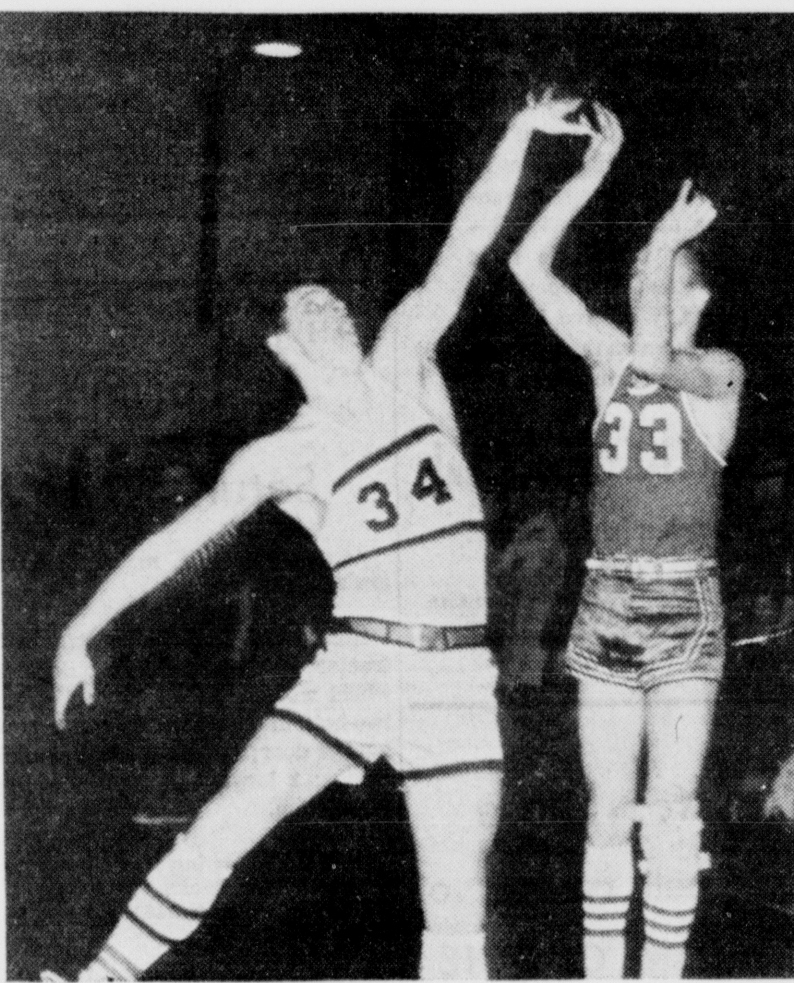

DICK Hollenback, another leading Bronco scorer, was limited to five points after drawing his third personal foul early in the second quarter. Starter Jim Gregg missed the contest completely after coming down with a case of the measles.

Paul Frase, slender Bronco center, gave his mates added strength with seven points. Dan Hollenback, Sonny Roof and Jim Rathburn finished with four each.

Captain Bob Hart of the Braves hit for eight points and was a defensive bulwark. Hicks, a sophomore, collected six and scrappy Roger Clarke ended with four as did Dick Dean.

A vital issue in the contest was the devastating rebounding of Rathburn and Frase. The tall cagers swept the boards consistently on both ends of the floor and were especially effective in the first half.

Although Ashville was the victor by 11 points, the outcome remained in doubt until the final stages started to roll into view. Two successful foul tosses by Rathburn with 2:51 to go made it

Tourney Sidelights

The Coliseum was packed last night. Benis Lutz, tournament director, said paid admissions numbered around 2,200. He estimated total attendance at more than 2,500.

A line of fans stretching almost to the main entrance of the Fairgrounds was on hand by 7 p. m. The public address announcer kindly asked seated spectators "to move over a little" to provide more seating space.

The spirited county cagers again were bothered by a damp and slippery floor, especially on the north end of the coliseum. Doors on the south end were opened to speed drying. Several times players lost the ball when they slipped.

At one stage the game came close to being without a ball due to 48-37 and about clinched it for the Broncos. Spangler hit a long shot with a minute remaining, but Rathburn came back again for two more charity throws.

The Ashville victory, coupled with Walnut's win, signals a potentially great championship game Friday. The traditional rivals will clash at 9 p. m. Logan Elm and Darby will lock horns at 7:30 for honors in the consolation tilt.

THE outcomes last night automatically assure Ashville and Walnut of Pickaway County's two berths in the Central District Class A Tournament which starts March 2. Both Pickaway teams will play their district games in the Denison University Fieldhouse at Granville. A second bracket will be conducted at Marion. Drawings for the tourney, are scheduled Sunday at Granville.

the open doors. A long pass cleared the heads of players and headed for the opening. However, a daring fan batted it down. A Darby player went half way out the door in his effort to haul down the agate.

BILL HOOVER of Walnut wowed fans with his expert foul shooting. The Tiger co-captain hit 12 of 12 to go along with his 10 of 12 against Scioto Friday. This is thought to be the tourney record.

Walnut fired an excellent percentage from the field, especially in the second half when the Tigers pulled away from the battling Trojans.

There was no doubt that Tom Rathburn and Paul Frase were instrumental in Ashville's win as they pulled down rebounds constantly, especially the first half.

Disciplinary reasons were listed as the cause of Denny Valentine, Butch Willey and Damon Fox not playing for Logan Elm last night. Valentine and Willey were previous starters.

Walnut and Ashville will renew an ancient rivalry Friday night. Walnut won the regular season test, 60-58, on the Tiger floor. But the two teams will start from scratch come Friday night.

John Hardin, principal at Washington C. H. High School, was on hand for the games. He previously served in executive posts at Pickaway and Ashville. It wasn't learned last night whether he was rooting for Logan Elm or Ashville.

SPORTS BRIEFS

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Twenty pitchers and catchers were on hand for the Cleveland Indians' first formal practice of the season Wednesday.

Tigers Power To 88-68 Win

Darby Battles Gamely, But Hoover, Harber Hot

A thrilling contest between the Walnut Tigers and the Darby Trojans closed the semifinals of the 1961 Pickaway County Basketball Tournament last night, with Walnut the victors, 88-68.

Walnut, displaying amazing accuracy from the field, dominated the test for the first few minutes, but it wasn't long until Darby quickened the pace to give the Tigers a rough way to go. A sharp-shooting Tom Harber and hot on the foul line Bill Hoover boosted the Tigers past the victory line.

Walnut collected 21 points in the first period compared to Darby's 14. The Trojans, spearheaded by Jerry Vance's 13 markers and six by Paul Kreider, scored 21 points in the second period to Walnut's 15. Halftime ended with the Tigers in the lead by one point, 28-25.

The third stanza highlighted the skirmish as knots were made and untied, ending with Walnut on top, 55-46. Walnut took the lead in the finale and kept it to the remainder of the tilt, scoring 33 points to Darby's 22.

All-around high man of the tournament test was Walnut's Hoover. The hefty senior zipped nine field goals and completed 12 out-of-12 attempts at the foul line for a total of 30. Hoover was closely followed by Harber who finished with a 28 total. He hit 12 field goals and four charities.

Jerry Vance, deadly from underneath, earned scoring honors for Darby with 11 field goals and four free throws for 26 points. He really warmed up the second period to tally 14. Paul Kreider, stripping the net from the side, ended with nine baskets and one free throw for 19.

Walnut's Larry Leist, another foul line dead-eye, finished with eight free throws and two goals for 12. Darby's Roger Drummond, hitting on rebounds, added six baskets and three charity shots for 15.

The initial deadlock came in the first period at 4-4 when Darby's Drummond tipped in a rebound. The deadlock was broken on a jump shot by Walnut's Harber, putting the Tigers in the lead, 6-4.

The second quarter kept excited cage fans' attention focused on the play every second. Before it was underway too long, Darby was trailing by a mere one point. Trojan Vance broke the spell to put Darby out front with a successful jump shot, 28-27.

Harber, in turn, put the Tigers back in the lead on a rebound and Raymond White doing likewise put the Trojans at a 31-28 disadvantage. Darby's Vance and Kreider boosted their count from out front with a jump shot each to make it read 32-31.

Two free throws by Walnut's Hoover turned the tables once again with the Tigers out front, 33-32. Another two points by Vance on a lay-up and one from Drummond from the foul line, showed the Tigers trailing 35-33.

A successful jump shot from the side by Hoover and a free throw by Larry Leist ended the second stanza with Walnut in the lead, 36-35.

Both teams showed a strong determination for a victory after intermission, but Walnut making good use of Hoover's 10 points, finished the stanza, 55-46. But the Tigers were forced to fight for the advantage.

Kreider put Darby in the lead again during the third quarter with a jump shot from way outside, 41-40, but Walnut's Hoover netted two more foul shots giving the Tigers a one-point gain. Vance reversed the lead again in Darby's favor, 43-42, but not for long as

Pirates Set For Contest At Columbus

The World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates will play the Columbus Jets an exhibition game at Jet Stadium Thursday, April 27 starting at 8 p. m.

General Manager Harold Cooper of the Jets made the announcement today that the Pirates will stop off here enroute to Cincinnati from Philadelphia.

Tickets to see the comeback winners over the New York Yankees in the thrilling seven game 1960 World Series will go on sale the latter part of March.

Area fans will have an opportunity to see the National League's most valuable player and batting champion of 1960, Shortstop Dick Groat, in action.

Local baseball followers will also be interested to see if Groat's double play partner, Second Baseman Bill Mazeroski, will be able to hit one over the left field fence at Jet Stadium as he did in the ninth inning of the seventh game of the World Series at Forbes Field to send the Yankees down to defeat.

Several former Columbus players of the last few seasons will be in Pirate Uniforms, including Harvey Haddix, ace southpaw pitcher of the 1950 Little World Series champions and Catcher Hal Smith, batting champion of the American Association in 1954.

Manager Danny Murtaugh of the National League champions will also be able to field such well known stars as Smoky Burgess, Roberto Clemente, Vernon Law, Elroy Face, Don Hoak, Rocky Nelson, Bill Virdon, Dick Stuart, Bob Skinner and many others.

Ross Semi's Here Tonight

Buckskin, Catholic Central, Paint Valley and Southeastern meet in the Circleville gym tonight for semifinal games of the Ross County cage tournament.

The curtain opens when Buckskin takes on Catholic Central at 7 p. m. Following this will be a battle between Paint Valley and Southeastern at 8:30.

Paint Valley, winner of the Ross league, is tourney favorite, but will meet more than a match in scrappy Southeastern.

The winners will play here Saturday night for the tournament championship and the two losers will go for the consolation bid.

Ohio State University offers advanced work leading on the Ph.D. degree in 60 areas of learning and the master's degree in 74 fields.

Hoover tossed another rebound in, putting the Tigers away and running for the remainder of the battle.

The finale showed a determined Darby five doing its best to conquer an overpowering Walnut force, but without success. The Trojans came, saw and did their best to conquer, but didn't come more than ten points within reach of the torrid Tigers in the final period.

Defiance Grabs Mid-Ohio Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defiance became the third Ohio college team to repeat as a conference basketball champion Wednesday night. The Yellow Jackets annexed their second straight Mid-Ohio League title by combining a 107-87 win over Findlay and Wilmington's 87-71 triumph over second place Ohio Northern.

Wittenberg has already clinched its third straight Ohio Conference crown and Ohio University has done the same in the Mid-American Conference.

Defiance notched its 17th victory in 20 games with some of the hottest shooting seen all season. The Jackets canned 65.4 per cent of their shots from the field—42 of 64—and converted on 23 of 28 free tries.

Wilmington's Quakers had to overcome a five-point deficit at halftime to crush the Polar Bears' hopes for a tie for the league title. Dayton's Flyers, already headed for the National Invitational Basketball Tournament in New York, probably ended the chances of Xavier getting a bid to the post-season classic. The Flyers were just too much for the error-plagued Cincinnatians and coasted to a 94-71 triumph. The Muskies got behind in the early minutes and were never able to recover. At one point Dayton held a 31-point lead.

Dayton's Garry Roggenburk led the scoring with 24 points. The Toledo Rockets led all of the way in handing Kent State its 8th Mid-American Conference defeat in 10 games, 77-59. Larry Jones scored 23 points for the Rockets who are now 8-3 in the loop and 15-6 for the season.

In the only Ohio Conference scrap Marietta wound up its regular season with an 83-53 win over Denison.

Two Buckeye schools traveled to Pennsylvania and both returned with defeats. Youngstown suffered only its fifth loss in 25 games at the hands of Alliance, 64-49, and Gannon thumped Malone 99-83.

qualified last week in sectional matches at Eastmoor. They hope to carry the local colors on this weekend.

The elite group for Circleville are Jack Cook at 106 pounds, Tim Mogan 115, Bob Owens 123, Chuck McDowell 141, Tom Moore 157, John Williams 168 and Rupert Rudd, a heavyweight.

Preliminaries Friday start at 7 p. m. Semifinals and finals are slated for 1 and 8 p. m. Saturday.

COACH John Current has been putting his hefty contenders through some stiff workouts in practice this week. The locals are aware they will be coming up against some of the best in this part of the state.

Most of the tourney eligibles are in sound condition, although Cook is suffering a bruised hand and the last traces of a blackeye suffered in sectional battles Saturday.

If any of the CHS charges carry the banner successfully Friday and Saturday, they will go on to the State meet scheduled March 3 and 4.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Nelson Stacy of Cincinnati qualified Wednesday for the Daytona 500 late model stock car race by driving 150.2 m.p.h. in a 1961 Ford. His speed topped eight other qualifiers yesterday. Thirty drivers have qualified for the race thus far.

Aces Earn Title Shot

A-C Quintet Clips Bremen in 51-44 Tilt

Amanda - Clearcreek's surging Aces stormed their way into the finals of the Fairfield County cage tournament with a 51-44 win over defending champion Bremen last night.

The victory landed Amanda-Clearcreek a spot against Millersport for Friday's final. Millersport downed Carroll, 48-42.

The Aces, hawking the ball at every opportunity, cleared away a 19-19 halftime deadlock to roll to a 39-30 third period advantage. The advance was paced by Randy Davis and Roger Gussett who hit 15 points each.

Bremen which won the Fairfield league title, couldn't cope with the situation in the late minutes.

KELLEY was the top scorer for Bremen with 12 points, Lynn Young was another cog for the Aces with 10 tallies.

Although the Aces downed Millersport during the season, they are anticipating a rugged championship struggle Friday at Denison University's Fieldhouse.

Amanda - Clearcreek Coach Kermit McCafferty said the Millersport quint has lost only two games since December, to Sheridan and Granville, both top ranked teams.

of the Ohio Outdoor Writers Association emphasized the theme, and it is even being heard from some legislators and natural resources boosters.

Everyone seems agreed that with the booming population, more time available for recreation, greater interest in the outdoors and many other factors — new areas will be necessary. And many believe also that certain areas of southeastern Ohio, sparsely populated and with little to offer in the way of highly productive agriculture—may be the direction in which to look for more land.

Marion Clawson of Washington, director of the land use and management program of Resources for the Future, Inc., a non-profit research and educational organization financed by the Ford Foundation, looked at the problem the other day. He spoke at a faculty seminar in natural resources at Ohio State University.

Some of the factors behind the need for more recreation areas were these views into the future: Total population of the nation is expected to climb to 240 million by 1980, to 310 million by the year 2,000; per capita personal income at $2,525 in 1980 will climb to $3,600 by 2,000 compared with $1,630 in 1955; average workweek declining from 40 hours in 1956 to 32 in 1980 and to 28 in 2,000, and average travel rising from 5,000 miles in 1956 to 7,000 in 1980 and to 9,000 by 2,000.

"The vast improvement in travel facilities has enormously affected outdoor recreation," Clawson said. "On the one hand, it has opened up great new areas for the average citizen, thus increasing the effective supply of outdoor recreation for him. On the other hand, by thus opening up areas to new customers, it has greatly increased the demand for any particular area. There are relatively few sheltered areas anywhere, such as state parks, national parks, national forests and other resource-based outdoor recreation areas."

Ohio conservation officials have seen this state's recreation facilities becoming more crowded each year. Sometime in the near future, they believe, the need for action will become critical.

Results of a seven-year ice-fishing survey at Indian Lake in Logan County shows that bluegills are the mainstay of the catch there. Seventy per cent of the 32,652 fish reported taken in the survey were bluegills and they averaged seven inches in length. Second in importance were crappies; large-mouth bass made up just over two per cent of the catch.

Licenses were issued to 481 fur buyers in Ohio for 1960-61. In the latest report on Ohio's fur catch, that of 1959-60, it was disclosed that while there were fewer pelts, more money was realized. While there was a decline of 142,957 pelts from the 1958-59 catch, the value increased from $538,388 to $828,026.

K-Staters Head For Another NCAA Tourney

Tex Winter's Wildcats About Wrap Up Their 5th Big Eight Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Count Tex Winter's Kansas State Wildcats in for their third crack in the last four years at the NCAA basketball championship.

The Wildcats, bidding for their fifth Big Eight title in Winter's eight seasons as head coach, just about put away the NCAA berth Wednesday night when they shrugged off a slow start and whipped arch-rival Kansas, 81-63 at Manhattan, Kan.

The Cats and the Jayhawks, who beat 'em out for the tournament spot in a playoff last year, are tied for the conference lead now with 8-2 records with Iowa State and Colorado, both at 5-5, the closest challengers. But Kansas is out of tournament consideration this year and next because of probationary action by the NCAA. And with a three game lead with only four left, including home matches with Missouri, Nebraska and Colorado, it doesn't seem possible for the Wildcats to miss.

St. Joseph's (Pa.) moved within one game of nailing the Middle Atlantic Conference's NCAA berth and NIT entries Dayton and DePaul won major tests in other features of the Wednesday program.

St. Joseph's pulled away in the late going for a 92-67 rout of Bucknell, pushing its winning streak to six for a 17-6 record, routed Xavier of Ohio, 94-71 as Garry Roggenburk scored 24. DePaul, trailing at halftime, fired in 12 straight points soon after the intermission and downed NCAA-bound Louisville 75-67.

LaSalle and Seattle, a couple of tournament possibilities won again—the LaSalle Explorers (14-5) thumping Lafayette 104-86 and Seattle (15-7) snapped Idaho State's 11-game winning streak, 64-57.

Clyde Rhoden took 11 shots, hit 10 as Arkansas won a Southwest Conference game from TCU 96-76, Maryland won a 77-62 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over Virginia.

Two of the nation's top ten scorers had big nights. East Tennessee's Tom Chilton, who ranks No. 2 with a 31.5 average, scored 35 points and plucked 21 rebounds in an 82-79 triumph over Wofford. Georgetown's Ron Warner set a school career record of 1,155 points although he's only a junior—netting 30 in an 87-60 rout of Elizabethtown (Pa.).

Florida, challenging for the Southeastern Conference's NCAA berth, nipped non-leaguer Florida State, 75-74, and soph Bill O'Connor's 34 points led Canisius' 83-78 whipping of Syracuse.

Trucking Executive Arrested in Gallipolis

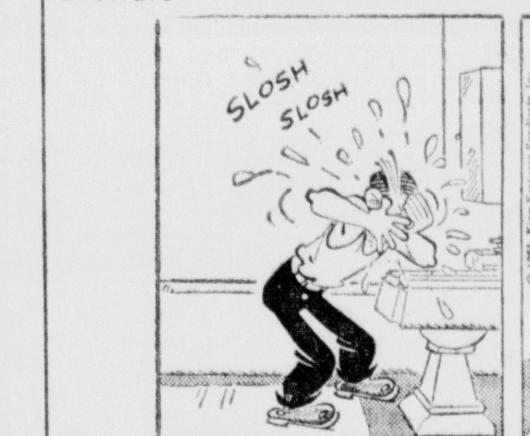

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Edward Baugh, 41-year-old trucking executive awaiting trial in the slaying of his wife, is back in Allegheny County jail today after being arrested in Gallipolis, Ohio on charges of writing bad checks.

He was wanted here for bail jumping and had check charges. Baugh is accused in the fatal shooting of his wife, Anna Louise, 34, during a quarrel in their home last May 11. He has been free on $7,500 bond. He was arrested yesterday in a motel where he had been staying with his three children.

Harsha Reports Time To Stop Red Appeasers

By WILLIAM H. HARSHA JR.
Congressman, 6th District

There is an obvious movement in Washington to recognize Red China. The smell of appeasement grows stronger here every day. It emanates from the State Department.

The argument that "we must arrive at a position of mutual trust with the Soviet Union is heard with increasing frequency in official circles.

No one can negotiate safely with Khrushchev — now or at any time in the future. If we have not yet learned that, we never will. Appeasement is not the road to follow in dealing with communism. Appeasement is a sign of weakness. It's time we stopped trying to appease and vacillate. It's time to be firm and aggressive in dealing with communism.

Recently, Harold Stassen requested the President to recognize Red China and East Germany — to give Red China a seat on the U. N. I shudder to think what would have happened to this country had that man been successful in his bid for the Presidency several years ago.

It is not "inevitable" that Red China will be admitted to the U. N.

TO PUT it bluntly, the United States alone has the power to block her admission. If the Anti-American bloc, or the neutralist bloc, wins control of the U. N., is Mr. Adlai Stevenson resigned to acquiescing in its other demands?

They are not by any means confined to Red China. Mr. Stevenson's role in the U. N. should be dedicated to keeping Red China out so long as China is held prisoner by a communistic government bent on destroying every lofty aspiration in the U. N. Charter.

I, for one, am not resigned to Mr. Stevenson's resignation to the "inevitable."

Communism has attained its present level because of the recognition and appeasement it has received in the past. Surely we can learn by experience! Let's not make the same mistake too many times.

What we need in America today is a determined effort by all Americans to stand up to communism. An effort dedicated to defeating it, not further amelioration. We need a revival of plain Americanism, with pride in our history and our accomplishments; with good will toward all friendly nations and those who would become friendly; with determined opposition to those thugs, cutthroats and aesthetes in the communist nations that are scheming to take us over and destroy us.

I, for one, have not intention of having my children raised under the Red flag.

Kennedy Says 6th District Not on List

Congressman William H. Harsha Jr., of the 6th Congressional District of Ohio, was advised by the President's Office that due to limited funds the number of areas is restricted in which the pilot food stamp projects are to be operated.

The President's Office suggested to the Secretary of Agriculture that if additional projects are to be initiated that every consideration be given to the 6th District.

Following this up, Congressman Harsha requested the Secretary of Agriculture to include the 6th District in the present program pointing out that 8 of the 9 counties of this district have been classified as areas of substantial labor surplus.

He said several welfare directors have advised him that their relief funds are depleted and that they cannot absorb the additional expense of handling the increased surplus commodities added to the surplus food distribution program already in operation. They have indicated their support of his pilot food stamp plan.

Congressman Harsha requested the Secretary not to delay but to reconsider and include the 6th District in his proposed food stamp program.

Highway Department Seeks To Protect Income Source

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state highway department needs every dollar of income it now receives, and the need will be intensified if the federal government compresses the interstate highway program, Director Everett S. Preston said today.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has urged federal officials to move the completion date for the 41,000-mile interstate highway network from the present 1980 deadline to the original, earlier cutoff date of 1972.

This would of course mean increased annual federal spending to complete the massive program at an earlier date, DiSalle said, but the result would be money and jobs to offset the recession that Ohio and other states are experiencing.

In Ohio's case, this could amount to an increase of more than $100 million a year, highway department officials figure.

'Family-Planning' Proposal Pondered by Church Council

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Endorsement of artificial birth control, a topic of stormy religious controversy in this country, was proposed today before a representative cross-section of American Protestants.

Action on the matter was scheduled by the policy-making general board of the National Council of Churches.

A team of theologians spent more than a year in working out the recommended pronouncement, the first of its kind undertaken by the interdenominational body.

Besides upholding contraception as a Christian means of regulating family size, without impairing the "mutual love and companionship" of husband and wife, the statement also:

Urges the United States to extend "family-planning" aid, when requested, to countries with soaring, underfed populations.

Condemns state laws restricting birth-control information and materials.

Both these questions are thorny. Pending before the U.S. Supreme Court is a case challenging the 80-year-old Connecticut law forbidding prescription and use of birth-control devices. About 30 states have kindred restrictions.

The question of whether this country should give birth-control aid to overpopulated lands first arose in late 1959. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower indicated it was a problem for private agencies. But the council statement maintains the job is too big for them.

It notes that inter-church friction is not over birth control itself, but over the means used to achieve it, and adds that most Protestants approved both contraception and periodic self-restraint.

The Catholic Church sanctions only the so-called rhythm method — avoiding intercourse during a woman's fertile periods.

And this is condoned only for grave reasons, such as economic or health factors.

The National Council of Churches includes representatives of most major Protestant and orthodox denominations—34 of them with 40 million members.

In advance of the council's action, orthodox churches held to their traditional view that marital abstinence is the only proper means for family limitation.

On another front, the council Wednesday night called for federal aid to public schools, but opposed such aid for parochial and other private schools. It also urged medical care for the aged through the Social Security system. Both moves parallel programs of President Kennedy's administration, with congressional skirmishing now going on over them.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A proposal for a 5,000-acre federal wildlife refuge in Lucas and Ottawa counties will be the first orders of business at a meeting of the U.S. Migratory Bird Commission in Washington March 15.

Hayden W. Olds, chief of the Division of Wildlife, said the proposed Ottawa National Wildlife Refuge would be located between Magee Marsh on the east and Metzger Marsh on the west. Both are state owned and cover about 3,500 acres.

The refuge would be primarily for wild fowl and Olds said there would be some provision for public hunting.

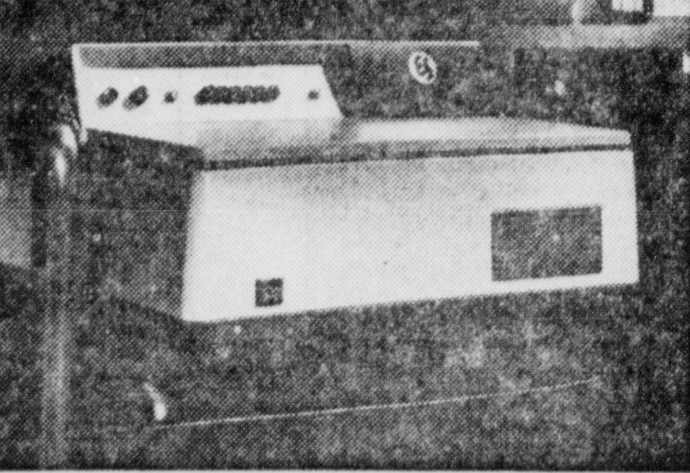

Ohio is the only state in the 14-state Mississippi flyway which has no federal wildlife refuge.
